Charge NumberViolation

One

There is probable cause to believe that the person under supervision violated the mandatory condition that he refrain from drug use.

On March 11, 2021, I met with the client at his residence in Hercules, California. During this meeting the client informed me that he relapsed and had been using cocaine and marijuana. He requested to go into residential treatment.

Evidence to support this charge is the chronological entry dated March 11, 2021, located in the client's electronic probation file.

Action Taken and Reason

On March 11, 2021, I met with the client at his home and he admitted to having relapsed and asked for help. The client was subsequently placed in Center Point residential treatment program in Napa, California. He completed that program and returned back home. He continues to participate in outpatient treatment and testing at Options Recovery in Berkeley, California.

Respectfully submitted,
